TUMULTUOUS BOARDER
SMASHES WINDOWS

Daniel Sheehan Then Manages to Make His Escape.

After being put out of Max Markoff's restaurant at 525 Main street, Daniel Sheehan attempted to reenter and on being denied admittance used a beer bottle with telling effect on the plate glass windows and the glass in the doors. The trouble occurred during the noon hour. Sheehan was one of the boarders and was employed by Willard H. Smith, produce commission merchant. According to Markoff, Sheehan came into the restaurant shortly after 12 o'clock in an intoxicated condition, and started making himself disagreeable, shouting things about and using insulting language. Markoff ordered him out and finally managed to get him out and upstairs to his room, 630 Main street, 375 and that there was $200 due on the mare when he reappeared from Constable William J. Alkali in Soap
Bad for the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary milled coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get milled coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.
